Cats Eye Margaret Atwood

Cat's Eye is a 1988 novel by Canadian writer Margaret Atwood about controversial painter Elaine Risley, who vividly reflects on her childhood and teenage years. Her strongest memories are of Cordelia, who was the leader of a trio of girls who were both very cruel and very kind to her in ways that tint Elaine's perceptions of relationships and her world — not to mention her art — into her middle years.

Cat's Eye (novel) - Wikipedia

I first read Cat's Eye many years ago and it profoundly impacted my self-understanding. Atwood's uncanny observations around the "minutia" of childhood helped me frame out events that shamed and shaped me in my own life.

Cat's Eye. Margaret Atwood is a prolific Canadian novelist, poet, essayist, and critic. Her work often deals with themes of feminism, ecology, and nationalism. Born in Ottawa, Ontario, Canada, in 1939 to Carl Atwood, a forest entomologist, and Margaret Dorothy Atwood, a dietician, Atwood grew up traveling around the bush country of Northern Canada while her father conducted his research.

Cat's Eye: Context | SparkNotes

Although Margaret Atwood’s novels have often been described as strongly feminist, Cat’s Eye both engages with and resists feminist ideology. The novel deals extensively with the differences between men and women, yet focuses on cruelties specific to female/female relationships and the fraught nature of developing a female identity.
